Division of Dermatology, Grand Rounds - 11/4/2025

Overview

The UCLA Dermatology Grand Rounds is the core meeting of the division. This series trains attendees to evaluate and manage challenging patients. It provides an opportunity for presentation of challenging patients from the division. Attendees are exposed to cutting-edge basic science and clinical research. The latest literature is reviewed, keeping attendees up to date on issues such as pathogenesis, therapeutics, epidemiology, patient safety, and clinical competency. It invites nationally and internationally renowned speakers to expose the audience to outside expertise. It serves as a resource for the audience to keep current on knowledge, competency, and clinical practice in order to better serve patients with skin diseases.
