About the Center for Clinical AIDS Research and Education

UCLA has been a leader in AIDS and HIV-related research, education and patient care since 1981 when the nation's first cases of AIDS were identified at the UCLA Medical Center. The UCLA Center for Clinical AIDS Research and Education (CARE Center) was established in 1990 to facilitate clinical research and to integrate current research findings with teaching and patient care.

The UCLA CARE Center manages an outpatient clinic dedicated to patients with HIV and maintains an active clinical research program, which evaluates new antiretroviral therapies and investigates diseases associated with HIV and the complications of therapy. It is one of the original sites of the Adult AIDS Clinical Trials Group (ACTG). An education and outreach program disseminates information on AIDS and HIV infection to healthcare providers and to the community.

The CARE Center is also a primary location for training of medical students and house staff at the David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA in the optimal care of patients with HIV.

Disclosure

The FDA has issued a concept paper that classifies commercial support of scientific and educational programs as promotional unless it can be affirmed that the program is "truly independent" and free of commercial influence. In addition to independence, the FDA requires that non-promotional, commercially supported education be objective, balanced and scientifically rigorous. The policy further states that all potential conflicts of interest of the CME staff and faculty be fully disclosed to the program's participants. We at UCLA fully endorse the letter and spirit of these concepts.

About the UCLA-CDU CFAR

The Mission of the UCLA-CDU Center for AIDS Research (CFAR) is to stop HIV in Los Angeles County and beyond through engaging diverse researchers with multi-disciplinary perspectives. The UCLA-CDU CFAR strengthens and amplifies the impact of existing research activities and launches new partnerships across Los Angeles and globally through our focus on three themes: STOP HIV by preventing new HIV infections (Prevention), reducing morbidity among people living with HIV (Treatment) and developing strategies for eradication (ART-free Remission). The UCLA-CDU CFAR funds AIDS-related activities and programs conducted by investigators at UCLA, CDU and our Affiliated institutions, which include Harbor-UCLA Medical Center in Torrance; the UCLA CARE Clinic and the VA Greater Los Angeles Healthcare System in Westwood; the UCLA Vine Street Clinic in West Hollywood; and the Drew CARES, the CDU PUSH coalition and the MLK OASIS Clinic at CDU.

The UCLA-CDU CFAR delivers research at the interface of community by reaching communities most in need and by bringing to bear the talent of CDU and UCLA researchers to address problems from a multi-disciplinary perspective while mentoring the next generation who better reflect the diversity of communities being served.
